

Latimer Living: Bringing South African Decor To London

FEBRUARY 2, 2018

Meet Jess Latimer – Owner, designer and decorator of a stunning boutique hotel in Cape Town, Cape View Clifton. With spot-on aesthetics and killer views mixed in with a luxurious, inviting and uniquely South-African decor, the success of the hotel does not come as a surprise... And neither does Jess' next move to branch out into helping everyone else create similar looks in their own homes and apartments.

Growing up in Durban, South Africa, Jess has always had a strong appreciation for colonial architecture and the huge range of artistic talent that Africa inspires. Latimer Living is an online interiors shop and interior design service that allows Jess to bring her distinctive South African and colonial décor style to a broader market, closer to home in London.

From stylish hard-to-find South African and African products to timeless colonial pieces, ethically-sourced homewares and high-end furniture, Latimer Living is an interiors brand with a global appeal and we can not get enough of it!

We have gathered together a few of our favourite pieces...
